

Bio-Cybernetics and Energy Medicine Conference: The Vital Links to Vibrant Health

By Simon Yu, MD

The Sixth International Medical Conference, with this year's focus of Bio-Cybernetics and Energy Medicine, will be held in Saint Louis on October 9-11, 2009. It is sponsored by The Foundation for Applied Science for Alternative Medicine and The Healing Arts.

What is Bio-Cybernetics and Energy Medicine? Bio-cybernetics is a hot topic in the emerging field of energy medicine in Europe. Bio-cybernetic medicine is not a new idea but an old concept that has been given a new name. A bio-cybernetic matrix is a modern term for the acupuncture meridian system and the related medical field of acupuncture meridian assessment developed by Reinhold Voll, MD in Germany in the 1950's. It has been previously known as Electro-Acupuncture according to Dr. Voll (EAV).

In November, 2006, I attended the International Symposium of Biocybernetic Medicine in Germany. The symposium included medical doctors, acupuncturists, dentists, natural medical doctors, and engineers, physicists and mathematicians who developed instruments that detect how cells communicate with each other.

For cellular communications, Professor Fritz-Albert Popp, Ph.D., a theoretical physicist and bio-physicist from Germany, proved that cells communicate by means of bio-photons as information carriers. A bio-photon is a photon of light that is emitted from a biological system that can be detected with a special measuring instrument (photometer). Bio-photons trigger all biochemical reactions in living cells.

All living organisms possess complex electromagnetic fields creating an "invisible body." The electromagnetic fields disappear completely with death. To my amazement, we already have "an invisible body map of the bio-cybernetic matrix" in the acupuncture meridian system taught by Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) and the chakra system taught in Ayurvedic medicine.

The main theme for this year's conference focuses on the bio-cybernetics approach that establishes a new system science of energy medicine linking the human body, mind and spirit. This unique conference covers a variety of subjects that influence the bio-cybernetic systems of the body such as the latest research in mercury toxicity presented by world prominent chemist, Professor Boyd E. Haley, Ph.D., dental related medical problems, and geopathic disturbance.

Many outstanding speakers discuss evaluation techniques for measuring the health of the body's bio-cybernetic systems including computerized acupuncture meridian assessment analysis and the latest techniques in infrared thermography. Other speakers discuss therapies to bring the body back into balance including color therapy, complex homeopathy, environmental medicine, hormonal therapy and spiritual wellness.

Why is there a need for an Complementary Medical Conference? Western medicine uses a model based on bio-mechanical and bio-chemical medical science. Their solution relies heavily on a pharmaceutical approach to control symptoms or surgical corrections, such as a heart by-pass operation, that do not address the underlying problems. Lowering cholesterol levels with statin drugs are not the solution either.

Let us also not be seduced by targeted genetic modulation based on the newest and latest advancements in genetics and molecular biology. Most chronic illness like heart disease, diabetes, and cancer is mainly based on our life styles, eating habits, and the environment in which we live. Genetics play a lot smaller role than you may be led to believe.

Our health is directly related to several factors including a healthy diet of foods that aren't highly processed; the quality of the soil and the practice of sustainable organic farming to promote nutrient rich foods; and the avoidance of chemical laden Frankenstein Pharming. Our plants capture photons from the sun for photosynthesis and convert it to edible crops. When we eat fruits, vegetables, meats or fish, we go through reverse engineering accomplished by mitochondria to release the bio-photons while producing the energy currency, ATP.

Photons and Bio-photons are the basis of life, the invisible force. Incurable means immeasurable by western medical science. Bio-cybernetics and energy medicine understand the existence of "invisible energy fields" that can be measured based on the ancient principles of Acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine.

Curing the "incurable" can become possible when we can measure the immeasurable. All health professionals are welcome to attend the Bio-Cybernetics and Energy Medicine Conference to absorb the latest scientific medical knowledge from leading medical doctors, dentists, chiropractors and other health practitioners. It is time to bridge the missing links between traditional western medical science and Bio-cybernetics and Energy Medicine to achieve successful outcomes from chronic illness to vibrant health and healing.
